SIGNATURE EFFORT BEST IN STATE
Comtois Leads All State Rep Candidates in Signatures

(BROOKFIELD) – State Representative candidate Stephen J. Comtois II is already showing the voters of the 5th Worcester district he has a work ethic not often found in the State House. Today Comtois turned in 572 certified signatures to the Secretary of State’s office, 422 more signatures than is required to be on the ballot. Comtois not only exceeded the minimum requirement, he turned in more certified signatures than any other candidate for State Representative in the entire state, including incumbents.

“I knocked on over a thousand doors to get those signatures. I want to show the people of this district that I will work very hard as their next State Representative” said Comtois.

Comtois believes that the record number of signatures illustrates a broad base of support for his candidacy, “People are excited for a change, they are tired of business as usual on Beacon Hill” said Comtois, “It was a surprise to have the most signatures in the State and I am proud of the effort, but it is an effort that the people of this district deserve.”

The 5th Worcester district, made up of eleven communities, is one of the largest in the state. Comtois has knocked on doors in all eleven communities and has plans to continue the effort throughout the campaign. “I look forward to knocking on so many doors in this district that I am forced to purchase a new pair of shoes,” Comtois stated, “it is good practice for the job of State Representative, because there are only a few hundred doors in the State House and I will be knocking on all of them to get what the taxpayers of this district deserve.”

Comtois will formally begin his campaign for State Representative with a “meet and greet” from 7:00 to 8:30 p.m. Wednesday, May 17 at North Brookfield American Legion, 163 North Main St., North Brookfield. More information about Comtois’ campaign can be found at www.stephencomtois.com.
